EUROPEAN PROCUREMENT & PUBLIC PRIVATE PARTNERSHIP LAW REVIEW

International/Interdisciplinary Discussion Papers

For the new EPPPL Section “International & Interdisciplinary” we welcome discussion papers on international or interdisciplinary developments and practical implications for public procurement and PPP at a high level. Papers on developments from jurisdictions outside the EU and from scholars of different backgrounds, including law, economics, political and social sciences, technology and science are welcome.

Issue 2 (summer issue) will be on: Interdisciplinary Views on Competition and Public Procurement, and welcomes recent developments and interdisciplinary perspectives on competition in public procurement, including competitive procurement procedures or potential conflicts between competition and sustainability.
Submission deadline: 15 May 2023

Issue 3 (autumn issue) will be on: Transatlantic Relations between EU and US on Public Procurement, and may include discussions on positive collaboration examples, and measures with potential protectionist effects like Buy American rules, the EU International Procurement Instrument or the Foreign Subsidies Regulation.
Submission deadline: 15 August 2023

Submission does not guarantee publication. All papers will be subject to peer review prior to publication and are required to conform to the author guidelines available at:

www.lexxion.eu/epppl-authors

Please send your submission by the indicated deadlines to the Section Editor.
